Lowell Branch Office.

A branch office has been established at Lowell in the building occupied by Lowell Drug Co. News items and advertisements left there will be given prompt attention.CANANEA BRANCH OFFICE.
R. C. Brown is the local agent of the Bisbee Daily Review at Cananea, Sonora. An office is located at the American Drug Store, where subscriptions and business of all kinds will be received. Money can be paid there on subscriptions and advertisements and receipts given.
In this connection all letters for delivery to parties in Cananea addressed to box 177 will receive prompt attention.
The Review's daily circulation in Cananea is now 270 copies daily. This is a hint to advertisers.New buildings are depending on the passing of the sewer bonds next Tuesday.Vote for the sewer bonds and watch Bisbee grow and property values soar upward.A vote against the issuance of the sewer bonds means a vote to cut the price of your property in half.Boost, don't knock! Every vote for the sewer bonds Tuesday will be a boost; every vote against, a knock.Bisbee should hide her face in shame if the bonds fail to have the necessary two-thirds endorsement next Tuesday.The sewer bonds must be voted for next Tuesday or the property owners of Bisbee will never cease to regret it.A two-thirds vote in favor of the sewer bonds Tuesday will result in 5,000 people being added to the population of the city in a year's time.Your own health and the health of your family, perhaps the life of some loved one, is dependent on the result of the election Tuesday.Don't fail to go to the polls next Tuesday, Mr. Property Owner, if you want to keep the value of your holdings moving upward instead of downward.If there is anything that Bisbee needs more than another, it is a means of keeping clean and keeping clean is an impossibility without an adequate sewer system.What does 25 cents per month mean to a Bisbee property owner? And yet that is the sum total that the man whose property is assessed for $500 will have to pay by reason of the increased tax for the sewer bonds.
Think of it! The price of two drinks a month and property will be worth double. It's the biggest and best kind of good business to vote for the sewer bonds.If the property owners of Bisbee do their duty next Tuesday and vote for the sewer bonds it will mean that contracts for $500,000 worth of new buildings will be let during the year. With this amount of money put into new buildings every trade in town, every teamster, every business house, and every rooming house and boarding house will be greatly benefitted and an era of prosperity will begin that will be a surprise to even Bisbeites who are accustomed to see things move anyway.What Bisbee needs is something to encourage home investments—investments in homes. With a payroll aggregating almost twice as much new money as is paid out in El Paso every month, only a small part of it finds its way back into the channels of trade and made to do duty over and over again as it is in other towns. With a sewer system here, hundreds of new houses will spring up on every side, investors will erect modern apartment houses, shacks will be torn down and comfortable dwellings will take their places and every available businesssite in town will be used for business purposes; streets will be widened and new streets opened up; sidewalks will follow and in a year Bisbee will have the reputation of being the best town in the southwest in which to live. Her elevation makes the climatic conditions ideal and the one thing needful is a sewer system.Editor Patterson of the Chicago Tribune says his son resigned the commissionership of public works of that city, not because he was a socialist, as stated in his letter of resignation, but because he had been asked to do things for which he could have been indicted and for which he should have been indicted had he done them.
And Mayor Dunne went into office as a reformer!THE APPROACHING CITY ELECTION.The present city campaign for municipal offices is about the dulllest affair in the history of local politics. If there is any campaign fund on either side, it is not making itself felt, and there is a lonesome absence of red fire, stump speakers and brass band music.The paid offices are confined to that of City Marshal, Street Superintendent and City Clerk, and the Democrats have such a complete walkover for these positions that it is a difficult matter to arouse much enthusiasm in the ranks of the G. O. P.The Democrats are in the majority in Bisbee and Cochise county. While it is true that politics, in the strict meaning of the word, cuts but little figure in a local municipal campaign, still where the candidates on the Democratic city ticket are each and everyone well qualified for the positions to which they have been nominated, the Democrats owe it as a duty to these candidates and to the party to turn out on election day and vote the Democratic ticket from top to bottom.The Democratic party is in good favor in Arizona. Its straight record on the Statehood question has endeared the party to the people as never before, and this is a year of Democratic supremacy in Arizona—a time when the party has been tried in the balance and found to be the true friend of the Territory and its best interests. The fall campaign is not far distant. The Democratic strength of Bisbee and Cochise county is being closely watched by the Republican bosses at Phoenix, looking in vain for a weak spot in our ranks. Let the Democrats turn out on April 2 and send the answer that no Republicans need apply in Bisbee, the Democratic stronghold of Cochise county, as well as the entire Territory.The Democrats can elect the city ticket in Bisbee. The Democratic nominees are deserving of election, and can be relied upon to give the city a clean and economical administration and a strong, straight Democratic vote in Bisbee on April 2 will start a cold chill down the backs of our Republican friends that will last them until after the fall election.

DESERVED THANKS.

Mark Smith, Arizona's able representative in Congress, who has made the fight of his life, states that the action of the Senate cannot be revoked and that Arizona is safe. Mark Smith will receive the thanks of all true Arizonans for the heroic efforts he made to save the territory from an intolerable position that was being forced upon her by a few eastern politicians. However, in giving thanks to him we should not forget the many other good friends of Arizona, and especially Foraker, who stood like a stone wall between Arizona and the enemies that would destroy her forever.—Clifton Era.The above is but a sample of the universal sentiment of the press of Arizona regarding our delegate in Congress. Few men in public life have ever had the opportunity to render to their constituents such a great service as was afforded Mark Smith in the fight against joint statehood. The victory won for Arizona has brought to Mr. Smith the highest praise and commendation for a duty well done from every section of the territory.But while Mr. Smith deserves the highest praise for his patriotic efforts to save the people of Arizona from a future state of vassalage, we must not forget the many men in Arizona who rallied to his support during the trying contest in Washington. Among those are to be found Republicans as well as Democrats. F.
M. Murphy is especially deserving of the thanks of Arizona for the untiring work performed. Hon. R. E.
Morrison, of Prescott, is another prominent Republican who did his duty promptly and boldly without regard to what the leaders of his party contended for in the disposition of the joint statehood bill in Congress.All those who journeyed to Washington, giving their time and the expense of the trip in behalf of Arizona, will never be remembered by an appreciative public.IRISH LOYALLY CELEBRATE DAYEverybody Wears Shamrock and Sings Praises
of St. Patrick

"Erin Go Bragh!"

With the shamrock and the green mingling freely with the Stars and Stripes, the Irish yesterday had their day. All day the streets were filled with the native sons of Ireland and descendants of that noble race.Big preparations had been made for the celebration of St. Patrick's day, a grand ball being given at the opera house by the Irish Nationalists, a literary program at Pythian Castle, given by Division No. 1, A. O. H. of Bisbee.At the opera house one of the largest attendances that has ever congregated there for the celebration of St.
Patrick's day, was present. At 7 o'clock people began to pour in and this was kept up until nearly 10 o'clock. The hall was filled with pretty Irish belles and gallant Irishmen.From one end of the hall to the other streamers and flags were strung.
The ceiling was artistically decorated with the Stars and Stripes, mingling with the green. On the sides of the walls hung small banners, on which were pictured a woman playing on a harp, her hair tidily arranged with the shamrock. On each of these banners was the motto, "Erin Go Bragh," meaning "Ireland Forever." On the stage small United States flags were planted, while from the ceiling to the floor hung green streamers, mingling with the red, white and blue.The grand march began at 9:30 o'clock. Participating in it were over 200 couples. The floor was crowded, but the march was handled in such a way that everyone had comfortable room. After the grand march, the regular dance began, lasting until this morning.The arrangement committee of the dance were James Letson, P. M. Kelly, J. T. Keating, William Fahey and Thomas Feeney.The floor committee was composed of James McGahey, chairman; D.
Twomey, John Duggan, Charles Flynn, J. P. Harrington, Joe McGovern and B. McGahey.The reception committee were M.
Hannon, chairman; Harry Jennings, D. C. Sullivan, W. O'Neill, John Hallinan, J. M. Sullivan, John Horan, L.
Cook, D. P. Roache, Tom Jennings and Thomas Flaherty.Excellent Program.
At Pythian Castle the literary program was well attended. Speeches and songs were the feature, the evening closing with an elegant lunch.The celebration commenced at Pythian Castle at 8 p.m. and was well attended. The audience included all the prominent Irish-Americans of the city and neighborhood. The orators of the occasion were eloquently introduced by J. T. Keating, chairman.Joseph E. Morrison, attorney-at-law, delivered a stirring and touching address on "Ireland," dealing in an interesting and concise way with its sad, but glorious, history. He won warm applause.The Rev. Father Brannen of Texas eloquently and fittingly pronounced a glowing eulogy on St. Patrick, the glorious apostle of Ireland, which won a warm commendation and fully justified the great reputation borne by the reverend clergyman for oratory and scholarship.Edward J. Flanagan, attorney-at-law, paid a glowing and graceful tribute to good womanhood, in his masterly and eloquent address on "Irish Womanhood."Rev. Father Meurer congratulated the Hibernians on their good work.
James P. Connolly, in his interesting remarks on the organization known as the "Ancient Order of Hibernians," paid a just tribute to this useful and old-established order.The program was pleasingly diversified by songs most charmingly rendered by Miss Carretto and Mrs. Joseph E. Morrison, ably seconded by Mr. McCall.At the conclusion of the program, the Ladies' Auxiliary served a substantial lunch, which received ample justice.Church Services.
At the Catholic church yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, Father Meurer pronounced high mass, which was attended by Irish and Catholic organizations of the city in a body, as well as by many Catholics not associated with any of the fraternal organizations.A mixed choir of four voices rendered pleasing music. Father Meurer spoke briefly on the meaning of St.
Patrick's day to the Irish, urging them to live in imitation of his life.THE BEST COUGH SYRUP

CONTEMPT CHARGED AGAINST MAHONEYBecause he refused to receive two boys from Solomonville who had been sentenced to terms in the Industrial honey will have to answer to a charge School, Superintendent James Ma-of contempt of court before Judge Frederick S. Nave at Solomonville on Saturday.The Solomonville Bulletin gives the following account of the difficulty:"Last week the Bulletin stated that Antonio Gonzales and Nicanor Lino, two Mexican boys committed to the Territorial Industrial School by Judge Nave, had been refused admission to that institution by Superintendent Mahoney. As a sequel to that story there is a contempt of court case."It seems that James Mahoney, the gentlemanly superintendent of the juvenile penitentiary has a long and glorious record as a justice of the peace of Navajo county, and that in the estimation of at least one man, his knowledge of the law is only limited by the legal statutes."The fact that Judge Nave did not personally conduct the boys to Benson seemed bad enough, but when he so far forgot himself as to send them there in charge of the sheriff with only a certified copy of the commitment, the superintendent could stand no more. He lost no time in telling the officer that such a commitment was not good for free board and lodging at his hostelry, and forthwith the boys were bundled back to Solomonville.A weak woman can easily conquer a strange man catering to his vanity.
